1* Please confirm you've read and agreed to the policy on AI use in applications.

Lisle International understands that AI tools can support accessibility, especially for non-native English speakers. However, the proposal content must reflect your own voice, vision, and lived experience. We do not mind non-native English and prefer genuine writing to extremely polished AI-generated narratives.

AI-generated content will frequently sound generic, without the clarity and specificity which makes a project unique, and this will count against you. We suggest limiting AI use to translation, grammar, or spell-checking, not content generation. Lisle is looking for authentic proposals that tell the story of your project—your goals, your passion, and your community—in a way that AI may not be able to fully capture.
